

Getting to know some Landscape, Science & Math with the Alfa-DINO-bet

You are looking for only 7 of the over 30 landscape, science and math references placed in the Alfa-DINO-bet. There may be multiple references to find per letter. Each letter is two pages. The left page has the bilingual poetry and the right page has the actual Dino letter. Simply write the letter in the box corresponding to the item you're looking for.

The eighth item deems you Alfa-DINO-bet bonus worthy!

- | | | |
|----|--|----|
| 1. | Sunrise to sunset, Utah's Brice Canyon and those golden arches are natural wonders. | 1. |
| 2. | Be-lieve it or not, the Sunflower is on of the most complicated and evolved flowers on the planet. Find it's life cycle. | 2. |
| 3. | Oh those nasty silverfish, one of the most primitive and least evolved bugs on the planet. Find their life cycle. | 3. |
| 4. | Seeking balance between good and evil, Wyoming's Devils Tower is opposite a Ninja Turtles holy masterpiece. | 4. |
| 5. | Dried out Impatiens seed pods, when activated, can impatiently explode and shoot their seeds for more than 7 feet! | 5. |
| 6. | Nature is so intertwined. Complete metamorphosis of the silkworm turns mulberry leaves into a 1000 foot continuous strand of silk. | 6. |
| 7. | Arizona's Monument Valley as DINO pedestals. | 7. |

I bet alfa-DINO can fool you here on bonus number 8.

8. Every cloud has a silver lining.